School Fair Excels Recent Years

While the Strathmore District School Fair has always ranked high, this year it excelled previous records.

There was a larger variety of trinkets exhibited and the standard as a whole was on a higher plane.

Added to the work of the pupils of the schools entering, a unique and very excellent showing of skilled Handicraft, executed and shown under the auspices of the Handicraft Guild of the Community Council, attracted much attention and was well worthy the many high compliments paid.

Work exhibited included tooled leathercraft, moulding in clay, artistic shell jewelry, polished wood pieces, an afghan for which the wool was carded, spun, dyed and crocheted by the lender, crocheted table cloths, woven pictures, sewing, etc. The entire display made a most interesting addition to the good work shown by the pupils. In charge of this Booth were Mrs. Maggs, Mrs. H. C. Willson, Mrs. Kimmatt and Mrs. J. Ekas.

Schools entering comprised, Nakamaka, Strathmore, Carseland, Nakamaka Farm, Orange Valley, Nightingale, Akenstad, Baintree and Turner.

Judges were as follows:—School work—Messrs M. MacLeod and George Wilson; Sewing and Cooking—Mrs. Garrett and Mrs. Maggs. Flowers and vegetables—Mr. R. J. Milligan; Livestock—Mr. R. J. Milligan and Mr. E. R. Nicholls of the Poultry Division of the Department of Agriculture.

Tea was served Friday by a Committee of the Home and School Association, those assisting being Mrs. J. Crellin, Mrs. Risdon, Mrs. Ekas, Mrs. Gannon and Mrs. Mott. Girls serving included Bernice Welshmer, Enid Baldwin, Olga Fedwich, Verna Mae Gannon and Miriam Ekas. The Tea netted $26.65 and the Grocery Hamper, won by Morley Deane of Strathmore Motors, netted $39.16.

LIONS SEE FILMS

Members of the Lions Club saw a series of safety films last Thursday evening at their meeting, including films portraying safe driving, safe use of power tools and safety from forest fires. Finishing off the program was a reel on the Happy Gang.

Klaiber Herd Increasing Fast

The purebred Hereford herd owned by A. Klaiber has been increasing very quickly recently, and the increase was topped off Sunday by the birth of triplets. All these calves were born alive, but since no-one was in attendance, one of the three, lying in a pool from Sunday's rain, was chilled, and succumbed. Mr. Klaiber was in the area soon afterward, and took care of the other two, so that they are now two of his friskiest calves.

The birth of triplets in the cattle world is a very rare occurrence, we understand, and one authority suggested the probability was much less than one in five hundred thousand births. Triplet heifers would therefore be much less frequent.

While Mr. Klaiber was pretty thrilled over the unusual "blessed event", he's not yet so blasé as to forget the pleasure he got from the birth of twins last spring to one of the milk cows.

WEDDING

BERGQUIST — MCGOWAN

The Standard Lutheran Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Sunday, October 5, at 4:30 p.m., when Benita Mae, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McGowan of Standard, was united in marriage to Ole Herman, youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bergquist of Elnora. Rev. Jorgensen read the marriage lines.

The bride entered the Church escorted by her father to the strains of the Wedding March played by Mrs. Sven Jensen. She looked very lovely in her gown of white satin made with a full skirtband, longilly point sleeves. Her veil was long and made with a Queen Ann head-dress and she carried a bouquet of red roses. Miss Marilyn Dahl of

A dandy dinner was served by Messrs S. H. Crowther and J. Ver-nunt, following which a sing-song, led by M. S. Hirtle, was enjoyed.

A zone meeting for Sunday was announced, and arrangements for members to attend would follow, it was stated.

G. CHRISTOFFERSON WINS SCHOLARSHIP

George F. Christofferson, of Antler School, is winner of the Governor General's medal, and of the Strathmore Home and School Scholarship. It was announced over last week-end.

Both awards go to the Grade IX student in the Wheatland area receiving highest marks in the departmental examinations.

Winners in the various subdivisions are: Roy S. Cunliffe, Rockyford; Evelyn M. Russell, Strathmore; Mary Lee MacLeod, Kathryn School; Anton Meyer, Delseker.

These scholarships, which are part of an annual affair undertaken by the Strathmore Home and School Association, will be presented at the next meeting of the association, October 29, in the High School.

BERTA VALE SCHOOL MOVES TO S'MORE

The Berta Vale School building will be brought in to relieve the over crowded condition of rooms in the Pubic School. It is expected that Grade II will be accommodated in the new building.

Drumheller, childhood friend of the bride, was maid of honor. She was gownned in a long blue net dress over mauve satin with chapel veil and gloves to match and she carried a nosegay. Miss Sheila McGowan, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and looked very winsome in a long yellow net over satin gown with matching chapel veil and gloves and she carried a nosegay.

Mr. Ralph Jensen was best man and Messrs Norman Sanderson and Robert Johnson were ushers.

During the signing of the register Mr. Dan McGowan, grandfather of the bride sang "Evening Prayer."

After the ceremony "Open house" was held at the home of the bride where the bride's mother and father and grandparents joined the bridal couple in welcoming the guests. The bride's mother chose for the occasion, a blue afternoon dress with black accessories com-

WATER, SEWER MOVING CLOSER

Arrangements for a water and sewer system moved closer to realization Tuesday night at the Town Council meeting, when a letter was received from the Board of Utility Commissioners, granting approval to the plans submitted by the Town. Arrangements were made immediately to draft the necessary by-laws to implement a vote on the matter, and a special meeting is likely to be called in the near future to sit on the by-laws.

Following first passage of the by-law, it is understood, the matter must be advertised for the rate-payers, following which a vote is taken. If the vote is favorable, Council may then proceed with the remaining readings of the by-law, and go after a contractor.

While nothing is as yet definite, it was announced that a fairly good lead on a large quantity of material has been obtained, and indications are quite good.

Date for a tax sale was set for Saturday, December 20, and the secretary is going ahead with plans to implement the sale.

SCOUTS SELL AP'LES

Citizens on Main Street were importuned to "keep the doctor away" last Saturday, and this right next to the doctor's office. It was the annual Scout Apple Day, when members of Strathmore's Scout and Cub groups turn out to raise funds to carry on their winter's work.

The boys erected a tent on Main Street, from which to conduct operations, and displayed the Troop's

BILL TAYLOR LEADS C'SELAND STUDENTS

The Organizing meeting of the Carseland Students Union was held on September 30 in the school with the following members elected: President—Bill Taylor; Vice President—Cyril Way; Secretary—Trenbure—Loraine Krueger; Social committee—Gladys Zeilnik; Winnie Humble and Ronnie McKinnon; Boys Sport Committee—Charlie Way and Jack Garnett; Girls Sport Committee—Elna Hildahl and Marjorie Groves; News Editor—Bernice Christensen.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Christensen of Aldergrove, B.C., spent Monday evening with Mr. and Mrs. T. Neergaard.

SCHOOL FAIR CONC'T

The Hall was taxed to capacity Friday evening when the pupils from the various schools entering, under the supervision of their respective teachers, put on a very interesting concert. The selections were largely Group renderings, and for the most part showed very careful training.

The Strathmore Orchestra has increased its number to seven now and is making an interesting addition.

Principal Crowther presided as chairman.

The support which they received, however, is evident in the sum raised, amounting to $52.25 net, which the boys felt was grand.

was appointed to meet the Legion Band to arrange an evening that will meet the convenience of each organization.

Interesting reports from the Provincial President and Secretary were read.

Responding to a request from the local Red Cross society for assistance at the time of the Blood Donor Clinic, October 28 next, a sufficient number of ladies volunteered to help in preparing needed refreshments.

"Dedicated To Freedom"

Written By Robert U. Brown,
 Editor — "Editor and Publisher"

Not so long ago, in terms of history, a homicidal maniac gifted with silver tongued oratory drove his bloodthirsty hordes across Europe and succeeded in plunging the world into history's most devastating war. Individual liberties, freedom of all kinds vanished where ever his foot trod.

The world will wonder, how could such things happen in a modern civilization?

The answer is simple. It happened because this man understood one thing: control the press and communications facilities and you can control thought; that accomplished, all democratic processes can be eliminated at will.

There were some great newspapers in Germany when Hitler was running an underground movement, meeting in beer halls, developing his strong arm methods. Hitler talked of a good game; he promised much for the future; hepersuaded some of those newspapers to support him. Their editors agreed that his program was good for Germany, that a few liberties and freedoms would have to be sacrificed for the good of the country.

When Hitler rode into power with the help of an uniformed electorate and an unsuspecting government there were still powerful newspapers who could have exposed him and his gang of cutthroats. But it was too late. Those last few who dared to speak out against him were quickly silenced. Their voices were added to the other newspapers and radio stations which became merely the amplifiers for his "wisdom."

The press of Canada will not forget what happened in Europe. Actually it did not need this example to be forewarned. A similar thing almost happened, and could have happened in the United States if it had not been for the vigilance and fearlessness of some newspaper editors.

We're speaking of Huey Long, the potential dictator. He had Louisiana by the throat and was taking steps to silence opposition from the newspapers by taxing them out of existence when those papers won a costly and lengthy Supreme Court battle. No one knows what might have happened, how far Huey Long might have gone, if those newspapers had not been alert.

Individual liberties are a cherished thing here which set this country apart as the mecca for oppressed people everywhere. And yet, these liberties and freedoms are taken for granted by the vast majority of the people who are neither interested nor vocal enough to recognize and fight the threatened encroachments on those rights.

The press of Canada is the medium dedicated to that proposition. National Newspaper Week gives us this opportunity to rededicate ourselves once again to that purpose.

Freedom of the press is not an intangible prerogative granted to the owner of a printing press. It is a guarantee to the Canadian people. Freedom of the press belongs to you. It is merely exercised in your behalf by the existing publishers. It includes your freedom to read and hear whatever you wish, the same as it is your privilege to buy the literature you wish, to agree or disagree, to praise or criticize the points of view expressed therein.

Your newspaper is acutely aware of its responsibility to inform its readers on the important news of the day. Because all news items by themselves are not readily understandable or may have wider significance, your newspaper also is aware of its responsibility to analyze and comment on such news.

Freedom and responsibility go together. Your right and duty to vote is interlocked with your freedom to speak. Your right to individual happiness depends on your freedom to go anywhere, whenever you please. And in the final analysis all individual freedoms rest on the first one—your right to read and be informed.

If your newspaper is restrained in any manner in its function of telling you what is going on, you have begun to lose your individual

The world needs a time of Thanksgiving. It needs it not just as a bracer to help us forget the troubles of our time but needs it rather to keep the vision of the fruitful purpose of God. Out of the void and the blackness came the gift of increasing life. Out of life has come beauty, and power, and goodness.

Our people can give thanks for many different savings that have brought forth their increase in our community; the Farmer for the grain that is his living for another year; the Breadwinner for the home and family that has grown out of his devotion and labor; the Mother for the increase of body, mind, and spirit, in her children that her loving care has brought forth; the Teachers for the broadening minds that their diligence has produced; the Citizen for the community groups and institutions that strive to fulfill the promise of the abundant life for all; the People for the high minded and consecrated of our nation who have achieved liberty and sufficiency in our land; the Christian for the strength and peace that has come from the promise immortality made clear through Christ.

Yet for each of us the harvest freedoms. And the rights and privileges that you enjoy as a Canadian citizen will slowly but surely begin to crumble away.

It is because of that your newspaper is a jealous guardian of all freedoms. Perhaps we are sometimes too petty in our editorial comment. Some of our criticisms and warnings may not be warranted in the long run. But if mistakes are made, they are honest ones honestly made in the effort to ward off the continuing onslaught against our Canadian heritage, our precious individual freedoms.

Your newspaper is dedicated to freedom—the Canadian type.

The Harvest is Great Also

is not all we hoped. The Farmer has lost, in part, a stiff battle with the elements. The Breadwinner has not provided all the luxuries he sought. The Mother has had her difficulties with all her children. The Teachers find their charges slow to appreciate the wide world of learning which they are offered. The Citizens can always find cases of weak effort in well doing. The People must meet constant attacks on liberty and security. The Christian finds daily prayer no sure cure of malice, and pride, and anger. In any area of life you may examine the planting by the good and the brave seldom bear bumper crops.

This is what the harvest of life is like and we must understand it or we will be defeated by it. But out of this harvest we get our Thanksgiving. It is this. In this wonderful field which is our world we are given an opportunity to sow our best, to give to the needs of a hungry world, to bring health and strength to little children, to contribute to the decency and hope of men everywhere, to proclaim and live by the promises of God. Every planting brings forth its increase.

The Blood Donor's Clinic will be held October 28 in the Memorial Hall from 2:00—5:00 p.m., under auspices local Red Cross Society.

Fire Prevention Week

Fire Prevention Week has become an accepted tradition in Canada and the United States since its inauguration some twenty-five years ago. In Canada, it is given official designation by a Proclamation of the Governor-General and in the United States by Presidential Proclamation.

Why do we have such a Week? The main purpose is undoubtedly to call attention to the devastating toll of life and property taken by fire each year and to urge that every precaution be taken to reduce the tremendous losses suffered by this country and our neighboring country to the south. It is with a great deal of consternation that we note that 408 lives were lost and property damage amounting to nearly $49,500,000 was occasioned by fire in Canada in 1946. This compared with 391 lives lost and $42,000,000 property damage in 1945. These figures and many others which may be found in the Statistical Report of Fire Losses tell us that we are making progress in reverse in so far as fire prevention is concerned.

What can be done to correct this condition? In the United States, the situation had become so bad that President Truman called a conference on Fire Prevention in Washington last May. It was hoped that by this means fire losses in the States might be reduced on a comparable basis to traffic fatalities following a conference on the traffic situation in 1946. Apparently it was felt that the keystone to success in the matter of fire prevention as in many other fields of public endeavour was publicity. Consequently we are going to hear much concerning the prevention of fires this week. To many of us the heedings will appear repetitious. How often have we been told to be careful in our smoking habits? How many times have we been cautioned about the necessity to keep heating appliances in good condition and at a safe distance from combustible material? Can we count the number of times we have been warned against the use of gasoline for cleaning clothes in the home or kerosene for lighting or accelerating fires? How about that old bug-bear "accumulation of rubbish"? Do we continue to build fire-traps in spite of other people's experiences with construction of that type? As an evidence that we still carry on "In the good old way" we may refer to the fact that there were 55,400 reported fires in Canada last year.

Not only this week but for the next 52 weeks let us resolve to pay heed to the warnings which have been sounded. It was said during the war that fire was a major weapon. It can be a major weapon during peace time as well. How can this country maintain its economic footing if our citizens by their carelessness, negligence and indifference continue this orgy of burning up the country's resources to the tune of $50,000,000 a year? How can we hope to alleviate the housing shortage when we have over 40,000 fires a year in our homes? Serious as the food situation is, we are aggravating it by fires which destroy elevators, warehouses and barns. Remembering therefore that eternal vigilance is the price of safety let us apply the simple principles of fire prevention in our daily routine so that we may safeguard our lives and property from destruction by fire.

Strathmore's School Fair

The School Fair is over once more for another year, but it would be poor indeed if it folded-up quietly and with no notice.

Nearly all parties will agree that this year's fair was the best that has been seen in Strathmore for some years, and that the quality of achievement reflected in articles entered shows considerable progress and achievement in the young folk of the district.

We're not sure how much of this increased interest is a more or less natural effect, following in the relief from war and the extra duties shouldered by many school children during the war, but we feel that a large proportion of the increased interest is certainly due to the efforts of the School Fair Committee, who worked up more enthusiasm in both teachers and pupils.

And we feel that whatever the cause, the effect certainly has been noteworthy. The result on the children whose work was seen and heard cannot be over estimated. We should like to see a greatly increased interest in the School Fair, both because years ago fairs evoked considerably more interest, and because Strathmore seems to have the only fair of note in the province, and we feel it should flourish.

The outstanding section in this year's fair was easily the vegetable group, which sprang from a rather small entry last year, to an exhibit which included a wide selection of many different species. Many of these entries were of outstanding calibre, and reflect great credit on those entering them. Great credit is reflected likewise on the fair officials, to whose efforts much of the increased interest is due.

Another section which showed a great increase over last year was the poultry division, which more than trebled its size.

ROOTS OF THE NATION

§§MORE THAN FOUR HUNDRED years ago Jacques Cartier broke the sod here which was to see the growth of a new nation. In the long years which followed earnest, capable men strove to insure that this nation should be one in which government is by the people themselves. It was the devout conviction of these earnest men that beings cast in His image are endowed with certain inalienable rights. And that the group judgement of His creatures is more adequate for wise government than are the minds of any individuals among them. §§The sustaining roots of this tree are Freedom of Speech, of Religion, and the Press. From the time the first slender stem emerged upward, until now that a great tree reaches its branches in majesty toward the sky, these freedoms have fed the growing nation with nourishing education. §§Enlightenment has produced flourishing branches. . . invention, progress in the sciences, the arts, and in public health. With these have come rising standards of living, and expanding opportunities for all. §§Great trees grow only slowly. There are no short cuts. While these freedoms continue their process of making available knowledge and understanding for all, the tree that is this nation will in each generation reach ever higher toward the heavens above.

PARENTS HELP IN EDUCATIVE PROCESS

Adherence to the principle that the school's work is effective in proportion to its influence on living activities of the pupil, necessitates the active participation of the parents in the educative process. It has been estimated that the pupil spends 89% of his time in the home or elsewhere in the community to the 11% in the school; consequently guidance provided by the home assumes a marked significance for the school. The public school cannot have the pupils during the extra time, but by taking the parents in to partnership, it should accomplish satisfactory results. Effective living can be taught in the home and elsewhere in the hours but of course this necessitates co-operation of parents and teachers.

What are the chief factors in this relationship between school and home? First parental co-operation is essential in the general education aspects of the school's program, such as ethical training, health, home membership, and recreational aspects. Parents need not be concerned on page eight—

by R. J. MILLIGAN

Today's article is in a different trend of thought. It is hoped that a greater sense of responsibility can be created amongst our farming friends for the land they occupy. I didn't use the word own because the average ownership is for a period of 30 years. That is a short span of a farm in the life of a man and therefore the use you make of the land during your occupancy is very important. Two questions that should be given considerable thought are, "What about the future generations?" Am I going to get rich quick at the expense of my own family and the community as a whole?" Your stewardship should be of the highest calibre. A farmer often feels that he is a law unto himself, but such is not the case. I do not refer here to plain everyday neighborliness, but his farming practices as they pertain to the community as a whole are subject to forces beyond the 640 acres, more or less, over which said farmer has control.

To illustrate the above point, what about a farmer who plants diseased potatoes in a seed growing area? It's his responsibility to plant good seed so as to protect his neighbors. Again, if your cultural practices are such that your soil drifts into the road and onto your neighbor's farm, you are responsible. This farm of neglect was so bad at one time that legislation was passed, making it unlawful to permit your land to blow. Soil erosion is also your responsibility. You should endeavor to obtain trash covers, or even a light cover crop to hold your land. It often happens that some of our practices remove and destroy soil fiber. The longer such practices continue, the more difficult it is to hold the soil and make profitable returns.

A new slant has been voiced by an observer, and that is "How much more secure and prosperous some farms are as compared to others". On investigation, it was found that most of such farms were either handed down to a son who has had his interest developed in farming or where the father and the son had a working agreement, or father and son contract.

If you are going to hand your farm over to your son some day, do you wish to give him a depleted asset? Let us strive to conserve our heritage. There are no other new lands to move to. Are you training your son to be a farmer? A farmer plays a large part in world economics and world affairs. Are you doing your part?

LACOMBE WANTS TAX ABOLISHED

The Lacombe council decided to contact the Federal government asking them to remove their 5% tax on gas and electricity used for domestic purposes, at their regular monthly meeting last week. The Council decided to take this step since the tax was put into effect by the dominion government as a war-time measure, and councillors believe that the need for such a tax is now past. The decision was taken in line with similar recommendations from the councils of other centres which have gas and electricity installations for home consumption, including Calgary.

ROCKYFORD NOTES

Mr. Carl Browns and Bert Horton have been away several times goose-hunting, each time bringing home their goose quota.

Mr. Miller and Jim took in the air show in Calgary on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Goss were Calgary visitors last Thursday.

We are sorry that Mrs. Sherman Browns is in the hospital in Calgary suffering from a most severe attack of neuritis.

Mrs. Ted James of Calgary is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Browns.

Everything revolves around the World Series these days, can't even get anybody interested in dinner until around 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. Bert Horton received sad news from the East recently. Her nephew in Ontario was instantly killed by a truck while he was walking along the highway from Stratford Saturday evening.

Mrs. A. J. Burnap, mother of Mrs. Dorothy Douglas, arrived Monday morning to spend a few weeks with Al. Dorothy and Richard.

We extend our sincere sympathy to Mr. Frank Ewing, his mother having passed on, Friday October 4th.

We see Mr. Stan Frayn sporting a new Chevrolet these days.

Mr. Art Dunsmore has just made himself a new trailer using the tires from the airplane he recently purchased. He will be using it to deliver tombstones and is he ever going to have fun in the mud.

Mr. Miller and Jim are preparing for their annual big game hunt. They plan on leaving around the first part of November.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Muenchraht are the proud parents of a wee baby girl.

The shower held in the hall for Mr. and Mrs. Milner (nee King) was a big success and everyone reports a good time.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Harley King has had a very serious operation but we hope to see her back among us again as soon as possible.

Mr. Bob Durrant is attending Tech. in Calgary.

STOBART

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Mashinter who have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Pete Tower returned to Oids the first part of the week.

Don Foster was a Calgary visitor over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Quennell were dinner guests at Mr. and Mrs. Lilja's Sunday.

Mrs. Ruth Ferguson and Mrs. Lilja visited with Mrs. Geo. McBean one afternoon last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Foster attended the wedding of Miss Benita McGowan at Stobart Sunday.

Mrs. Erma Mashinter and son spent Tuesday with Mrs. Lilja.

NAMAKA NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Watson and family of Rosebud spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Verd Watson and family.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Watts on the arrival of a baby daughter, Linda Jean, in the General Hospital on Saturday, October 4.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Aitkens were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bell of Baintree. Mrs. Bell returned with them for a few days.

Miss Margaret Edwards spent the weekend with her family at Lathom. Mr. and Mrs. Jake Lepp and family and Mrs. Watts were Calgary visitors on Sunday.

Miss Jean Fawkes spent several days in Calgary this week. Mr. and Mrs. Earle Boker and family and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fawkes motored to Black Diamond on Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Joe Foss and Joe.

CHANCELLOR NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wheatley, Mrs. G. C. Phillips, Mrs. H. F. Fenske and Mrs. N. I. Hansen spent the weekend in Banff and were guests at the Wedding of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Channey.

Mr. J. Chilton is having a check up in the hospital at Calgary. We hope there will be nothing seriously wrong with him.

The heavy rain over the weekend stopped all harvest operations.

Mrs. Fred Wheatley returned home on Wednesday from a four month holiday visiting her parents in Sudbury, Ontario.

EDIT III

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Watson of Cloverdale B.C. with Mr. Watson's sister, who flew by plane from Scotland, are visiting relatives in the district.

WEDDING

plimented with a corsage of pink roses. The bride's grandmother chose a grey afternoon dress and a corsage of pink roses.

At the reception Rev. Jorgensen asked the blessing. Mr. Milford Gregory proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom responded. Later the happy couple left for a short honeymoon after which they will reside in Standard. For her wedding trip the bride chose a brown wool gabardine suit topped by a brown coat and brown accessories. Her corsage was pink roses.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. Bergquist, Elnora, Mrs. J. Buckland, Elnora, Mrs. Bruce Campkin, Elnora and Mr. Albert Bergquist, Elnora, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sammons of Gleichen, Mrs. Fred Christensen and Gladys of Black Diamond, Mrs. A. Messenger of Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Foster of Stobart, Miss I. Reid of Calgary, Mr. Mac Wald and Mr. C. W. Walker of Beiseker.

Home & School Plan Year's Program

An executive meeting of the H. & S. Association was held Monday at which the following programme for the coming year was arranged. October 26—Presentation of Grade IX Scholarships in the Wheatland area donated by the Strathmore H. & S. Association. A fifteen minute programme of music will be given followed by a Discussion on "Homework."

Other subjects to be discussed at further meetings include "Discipline", "Leisure Time Activities" Vocational vs. Academic Education System of Grading and Promotion. There will also be three meetings at which outstanding Educationists of the Province will be asked to give addresses on the following subjects: The new course for the Elementary School; Learning Technique and Vocational Counselling. A special drive for more members is being made.

By special efforts during the School Fair $70.00 was raised towards the Scholarship Fund.

TOWN COUNCIL

permission to sell staple groceries in Ronnie's Meat Market, and approved.

M. B. Garrett was appointed enumerator for the Town, for the next year.

It was agreed to look into the matter of spring flooding of lots on Third Street caused by run-off from the alley, and if any thing useful can be done, arrangements will be made.

A suggestion was received with regard to encouraging neat piling of ashes and garbage by collecting weekly, and this matter was referred to the Public Works Committee to check into further. At present collection is made about monthly, and it was felt that more regular collection would not likely take much longer, and would materially help the cleanliness situation.

Further inquiry in to the possibility of repairing the fire siren is to be made. It was repaired once and lasted only two blasts. The rotor, it is pointed out, is of die-cast metal, which would not stand up to the terrific strain of revolving at high speed.

New fire extinguishers have been added to the fire truck. It was disclosed, for fighting gasoline or oil fires. The two are the carbon dioxide type, and very efficient.

Accounts to the amount of $142.00 were passed.

SHOW'R HELEN WAY

Miss Helen Way was the guest of honor at a very happy shower Wednesday evening, when her co-workers in the Bank arranged a happy social evening and shower for her at the attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. Maggs.

Two contests were arranged which caused much knitting of brows, but much fun as well. Winner of the musical contest was Miss Frances Jones and of the Slogan Contest Mrs. Lola Robison.

The girls of the bank, including Miss Lydia McLean, presented a lovely all wool blanket to Helen and a miscellaneous shower was arranged for the other guests, who included the girl friends of the bride-to-be numbering about 30. These were presented in a box prettily decorated in pink and white, and contained a lovely assortment of gifts.

Helen expressed her thanks for everything in a gracious little speech.

Choice refreshments were served, Mrs. Way pouring coffee, but owing to bad roads, Mrs. Putnam was unable to be present at the Tea Urn.

A very happy evening was enjoyed by everyone present.

P. MORGAN PARTIED

Miss Esme Colpoys assisted by Mrs. Ford were hostesses at a very happy surprise party Wednesday evening at the Vicarage in honor of Mrs. Bill Morgan whose Birthday it was. Three tables of bridge were arranged. High scores being won by Mrs. "Buster" Garriott and Cpl. Mott while consolation went to Mrs. Mott and Albert Desmet.

On behalf of the guests, Miss Colpoys presented "Pat" with a pretty gift accompanied by best wishes for everything.

Merry conversation and a jolly hour over the coffee cups completed a very happy evening.

SCHOOL FAIR SP'RTS

The annual sports meet of the School Fair was held Saturday at the School grounds, and following the meet, the final games of the softball tournament were played. Winner of the series once more was Carlsland.

This makes four times that Carlsland has won the trophy.

PARENTS' HELP

cerned with instruction in technical skills or specialized subjects... these are the responsibility of the school.

A second factor of the school must develop in parents an understanding of their co-operative roles, and finally, the school staff must discover and perfect techniques by which the home's part in the education process may be rendered effective.

Many parents and teachers may argue that education is the sole responsibility of the teachers. Possibly they are overlooking the fact that the parent is legally responsible for the child's education and more so when sending the child to school.

THE STATEMENT that parents are too busy to participate in educational activities is answered by the fact that they have to manage the general education aspects of their children's lives anyway; they can do it more intelligently and easily with the school's advice and assistance. This co-operation might lessen poor citizenship for many of our young people.

Initial contacts with a class may consist of visiting the school. That way the parents may see how the pupils work, play, and otherwise live at the school. Personally, I do not approve of "set" visiting days. It results in too much formality. This contact will assure the parents meeting the teachers and so resulting in a closer and friendlier co-operation.

Visits of teachers to homes form an essential element of school-home relationship, but they should not be practised indiscriminately. It is rarely advisable for the teachers to call at a home without an appointment with the parent. Much harm may be done if the parent is embarrassed as the result of an unannounced call.

In closing may I point out that the relationship developed between teachers and parents should eventually form the basis for a very successful Home and School Association.

Seeding In The Fall

Grasses, particularly crested wheat grass, are often seeded in the fall of the year. If the seeding has not been done by September 15th it should be delayed until between October 1st and 15th. The early seeded grass will germinate and over-winter satisfactorily while October seeded grass will be in the ground ready to germinate in the early spring and make full use of the moisture that is available.

Legumes should not be seeded in the fall of the year unless it is done in October after the possibility of germination is past. Legumes that germinate in the fall are almost certain to winter-kill.

Fall seeding should be avoided on land where soil drifting might occur. On dry loose land it would be wiser to delay seeding until early spring or until soil moisture is adequate. Fall seeding into stubble is usually safer than seeding into summer-fallow.

CHEADLE NOTES

—By B. W.—

We are very glad to hear that Mrs. F. Cramer is well enough to leave the hospital, after her recent operation.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Walker recently had as their guest Flo Lambert.

Mr. George Jackson is feeling much better and was released from the hospital on Monday.

Miss Letta Barber of Calgary, spent the weekend visiting her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. C. Barber.

gary were in Gleichen over the weekend. Mrs. Ironsides is Mrs. Hoey's daughter.

Mrs. F. Sammons was hostess to the regular meeting of the U.F.W.A. on Thursday afternoon, meeting opened by singing, "The Gleichen U.F.W.A." and "Lovely Alberta." Roll call being answered by "My main ambition in life." Arising out of minutes was a letter of appreciation from Robert Gardiner Fund, thanking the U.F.W.A. ladies for their contribution also a letter from Miss Hogg regarding "Farm Home Club", proved very interesting. Committees were appointed for dance; lunch—Mrs. R. B. Hayes, Mrs. L. Koeford, Mrs. R. Burne and Mrs. N. McMillan; Floor Manager—Mr. O. Chartrand; Ribbons—A. N. McLeay; Tickets—Mrs. A. Wilson and Mrs. R. Burne. All members to furnish cakes, admission 75c for gents and 25c for ladies, supper 25c. Dance on Friday, October 17.

The ladies were sorry to hear of Mrs. Collin's death and expressed their kind sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Mrs. R. B. Hayes read a very interesting bulletin on "Legislation" which was enjoyed.

A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. J. A. MacArthur and Mrs. R. Cunningham.

Next meeting will be held at Mrs. R. Cunningham's home October 16.

Little Dianne Blaney was ill a few days last week; also on the sick list during the week were Ronnie Wilson and Heather Holland.

Milk Records

R. P. Dixon, Supervisor of Dairy Herd Improvement for the Alberta that the safest and surest basis for intelligent breeding and selection of dairy cows is the keeping of herd records. When coupled with proper feeding, this results in an improvement in production that may make all the difference between the average and the best.

Average production of the 353,700 cows kept for milk purposes in Alberta last year was 4,687 pounds of milk and 169 pounds of butter fat. Compared with this, production from 86 herds under test with the Alberta Department of Agriculture averaged 8,653 pounds of milk and 323 pounds of butter fat.

The Dairy Branch is keenly interested in encouraging greater production from individuals in the herd. They are not only interested but they are helping farmers to keep records of production with this end in view. The cow testing policy is available to large and small herd owners alike. If you have at least three milking females in one year you can take advantage of this policy.

Friends of Mrs. John Umbrite of Three Hills, who recently got a very bad scald on one of her feet, will be glad to learn she is improving satisfactorily, although she is still confined to her bed. Mrs. Umbrite is at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Umbrite.

Master Douglas McMillan entertained a number of friends on Saturday at a party to celebrate his birthday.

in your Tires

1. They're slight—carefully compounded to eliminate porosity.
2. They retain their shape—long after other tubes become stretched and lifeless.
3. They're added protection—in any tire, old or new.
4. They increase tire mileage—because they maintain inflation pressure.

Standard Honours Mr. & Mrs. C. Elias

By Mrs. R. G.

On Monday evening September 29 at the Community Hall friends from Rosebud, Gleichen, Rockyford, Chancellor and Hussar joined with friends and neighbors to honor Mr. and Mrs. Chris Elias on the occasion of their Silver Wedding Anniversary. At 7:15 the bride and groom of twenty-five years ago entered the hall to the strains of the Bridal March played by Miss Shella McGowan. Mr. Dan McGowan, chairman for the occasion, bid all welcome and then called on Rev. Jorgensen to ask the blessing. A very delicious hot supper was then served by the committee in charge after which a very nice program was enjoyed. Mrs. E. Envidsen sang an old song which was a favorite of the bridal couple. Interspersing the many interesting speeches was a piano duet by Misses Helen Jean Gregory and Shella McGowan, a piano selection and solo by Miss Lillian Zelnick and a duet by Misses Marion and Diana Fraser. It is very commendable that these members of the very young "younger set" are such able entertainers. In a few very well chosen words Mrs. E. Envidsen presented Mr. and Mrs. Elias with the community present, a chest of flat silver. Mrs. Vierboom of Rosebud made the presentation from the Catholic Womens League and Mr. Tony Veiker, Mayor of Rockyford, presented Mr. Elias with a gift from the knights of Columbus. The groom ably thanked all for the grand evening and the gifts. The bride too, added her appreciation and thanks to the Community for making the eve-ing a very special one. After "God Save the King" was sung the floor was cleared for dancing.

SECOND SERIES

A Danish School

By Melba Birck

While in Denmark this summer, I visited a Danish public school in Aabyha, a suburb of Aarhus.

The school was made up of lovely modern buildings surrounding a courtyard, in the centre of which was a circle containing a series of continuously running fountains. As was to be expected with normal children, I saw the boys squirting water on each other at recess.

I was shown around the building by the art instructor who also taught mathematics.

The school has a staff of thirty-six members, a headmaster and two inspectors. There are about one thousand children in attendance. No class has more than twenty-five pupils, and some have less. There is a special class for those who are mentally deficient to learn and progress at a desirable rate. There were twelve in this special class at the time of my visit.

A full time lady dentist is employed by the school. She has a suite of three rooms; two are fully equipped for dental work, and the third is a room in which the dentist may have and serve coffee. There is a couch where pupils who are not well may lie down before or after the dental work is done. In addition there is a small waiting room. The fee for dental service is about two dollars for the first child and one dollar for each additional child in the same family.

Provision has been made for a suite of rooms to accommodate a school doctor. As yet there has been none in attendance.

Both boys and girls learn to cook. The boys are given chef aprons and chef caps to wear while taking this subject. The washroom is equipped with a dozen or so pairs of wooden shoes which the students put on when they go into the room to wash their aprons. The shoes are removed on leaving and in this way the prevention of water being tracked around the cooking room is effected.

In one of the rooms a sewing class was in progress. The pupils were hemstitching at the time. At the front of the room was a large wooden frame strung with thread as thick as the finger. Large wooden needles are used to demonstrate the stitches which can be easily seen from all parts of the room. The resulting demonstrated work is so large that it can be looked at anytime for the purpose of determining the correct stitches. Knitting of course, is also taught in this manner.

The school teaches grades up to the equivalent of our grades eight or nine. At the end of grade five the students are sent to another school if they are scholastically fit and if their parents and the students themselves are desirous of becoming scholars. Only those who wish to take high school and perhaps go on to University make the transfer. The others remain in this school until they have completed their grade eight. They may seek jobs or stay on an additional year in the school if they wish, before leaving to go into other work.

A great deal of the school area, in comparison to the majority of our schools, is devoted to the gymnasium. They were planning an enlargement because the space wasn't adequate.

During the war the upper part of the school was occupied by the Germans and the courtyard was full of their cars. School was carried on in the basement. My guard showed me a scar on the wall where the side of the building had been blown out. Some of the Germans hated their own commanding officer so much that they planted a bomb hoping to kill him. The bomb exploded in the wrong direction resulting in a section of the wall being blown out. However the school is now back to normal.

The teaching conditions in Denmark seemed far superior to ours although they have the same wage difficulties as the Canadian teacher.

I couldn't help remarking on leaving, "You have all the things that every Canadian teacher knows we should have and haven't."

CARSELAND

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lakey of Medicine Hat spent a day in Carseland with Mrs. Lennox Sr. before returning to the Hat after a brief holiday in Edmonton where their son is attending University.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hansen left on Sunday for their home in Dyke, Iowa, after spending the past two months with her sister-in-law, Mrs. M. Hansen.

A potato grown in the Carseland district by Mr. Harry Benton measured 8" in length, 4 1/2" in width and 3 1/4" in depth and weighed 2 1/2 pounds. Harry reports that the potato crop is the best he has had in years.

Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter of Calgary spent the remainder of their holidays with Mr. and Mrs. W. Gillespie.

Mr. F. Tetz of Beiseker is visiting with his niece, Mrs. E. Krueger.

Mrs. E. Stinson of Calgary spent the weekend at her Carseland home.

Mrs. Gale Field is visiting with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stitt at Banff.

Mr. Vernon Krueger spent last weekend at home with his parents.

Mrs. R. Way Sr. and Mrs. R. Way Jr. together with Mr. and Mrs. Pever, all of Calgary, spent last weekend visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. Way of Carseland.

Mr. and Mrs. Harper have had as a guest for three or four days Mrs. Lloyd of Vancouver.

Elevator Agent Busy Man About This Time of Year

For the next three months, the country elevator agent is just about the busiest person in the community. Many people do not realize the full extent of his duties.

The elevator agent must be a smart man to grade wheat to satisfy both the grain company for which he works and the farmer whose wheat he is buying. He must know all the grades of the various types of wheat, and also those of oats, barley, rye and flax and recognize in a moment if it is tough, heated, damp, smutty, and if it is so soft that it will shrink after being stored.

The elevator agent can buy grain outright when it is delivered, this method being known as "street" or "cash" grain, or it may be put in storage and sold when it is loaded in the car, this is "ack" price, or it may be sold when it is in store in the elevator, if it is on its way to the terminal there is the "in transit" price or when it arrives at its destination, we hear of the "spot" price.

A farmer delivers his grain to the elevator; it is weighed in the wagon or truck, dumped, the vehicle weighed and the amount deducted. The elevator agent must decide whether it is No. 1, 2, 3, or feed grain, which is also graded, and if he is sure that it will shrink considerably, he must dock a definite amount from the gross weight to allow for that.

The wheat is elevated or stored in special bins. The price goes up, and the farmer decides to sell. The elevator agent orders a car for Fort William or Vancouver; the station agent informs the dispatcher; the freight sets off, spotting it at the east or west spur as desired, and the car is loaded. Then the elevator agent goes to the station and bills out the car, taking his shipping bill along with him and the bill of lading is made out in duplicate.

The first deliveries to the elevator are made in the latter part of August, following threshing, and continue through till about the first part of December, and from dawn to dark you'll hear the chug-chug of the engine as the wheat is elevated into the bins.

Each day, each elevator agent reports to the railway agent the amount of grain he has taken in the previous day, and the total amount in storage; this is wired in to the divisional office for record.—Yorkton Enterprise.

this twentieth-century metal certainly aluminum in the north woods? Yes, even there this versatile metal makes itself useful in a dozen ways. That canoe is aluminum. So are the paddles. So is the rod, and the reel, and the tackle box. Non-rusting, light-as-a-feather aluminum is proving itself a natural for an ever-growing list of sports equipment; skis and skates and hockey sticks and bicycles...

And, of course, that's just one small part of the story. From industrial castings to objects of art, Canadian manufacturers are leading the way to stronger, lighter, more attractive articles of every-day use. Our own development and research is helping them to blaze new trails—places at their disposal a wealth of technical know-how. Today over six hundred Canadian companies are turning out products made with this miracle metal of the Twentieth Century.

IT GETS AROUND... THE WORLD

Every country in the world is today buying Canadian Aluminum produced at Arvida, Canada, home of the largest Aluminum smelter in the world. The "Alcan" ingot has become a major factor in world trade—and a valuable source of the foreign exchange which Canada needs to cover her own buying abroad.

Community Council Meets

The first meeting of the Community Council for the Fall term met Wednesday evening, President T. S. Hughes presiding. The minutes for the last general meeting also of each Executive meeting held throughout the year were read by the Secretary, Mr. Don Kennedy, thus giving a complete resume of the year's activities, with but two corrections, these minutes were passed in their entirety.

The question of a Memorial Jink was discussed, the chairman asking Mr. Baldwin to give the present outlook thereof. Mr. Baldwin gave a clear detailed account stating that what had at first looked very promising had for various reasons lost favor and he felt the project for a Memorial covered Arena had now gone with the wind.

The Treasurer's Report gave a detailed account of the receipts and disbursements showing receipts as $118.54 and a present bank balance of $179.54.

A motion that $100. from the C. C. be given the Wheatland S. D. as part payment on the projector was passed.

The question of securing a supervisor for the skating rink was left over until next meeting, an alternate question of the Ice Carnival, put on by the Jr. Hockey Club and Community Council.

The annual meeting was set for Monday, November 17, at 8:00 p.m. in the Town Hall.

A nominating committee comprising Rev. D. Ford, S. H. Crowther and Cpl. Mott was named.

Some discussion arose as to the purchase of a Public Address System and on motion Messrs J. Crellin and Art Moore were appointed a committee of two to get all information and report at annual meeting November 17.

Curlers Moving Right Ahead

"Dust off the rocks and check over your brooms," is the advice being offered by Jim Harwood, president of the Curling Club, these days, as he watches the progress being made in the moving of the building.

At present two sections of the building have been moved onto the new site, and the second is almost split ready for moving across to its own side of foundation.

There is one more section yet to move, and this will be set on the street end of the foundation, and the gap built in. This gap will amount to some sixteen feet, which adds up to the extending of the building for waiting rooms, kitchen, and so forth, which was contemplated.

The first section moved is already in process of being closed in, and officials of the curlers suggested last Wednesday that they would appreciate hearing of volunteers able to use a "saw, hammer and square." Since eight or ten are enough at a time, they suggest that those with time to offer get in touch with Jim Harwood or Harley Willson, and arrange a time when they can be of most help.

According to one enthusiastic official, if all goes well, he expects to be curling with the frost, because he's sure the building will be ready at that time.

Mrs. Wagstaffe came down from Calgary to stay with her daughter, Mrs. J. Bennett, during her convalescence.

Frank Muggleston returned home Sunday following an operation for appendicitis in the Holy Cross Hospital. A complete return to good health is now hoped for.

Mrs. Kennedy was a guest last Friday in Edmonton at the pretty wedding of Mr. Campbell Young and Miss Florence Harman. Mr. Young was a representative at the World Youth Conference held in Oslo, Norway, this summer.

W. Jensen is installing a new and modern water heating system at the Locker Plant. The heat will be electric.
